Healthcare Provider

It is always recommended to involve a teen’s primary health care provider to help educate and guide them on a cessation journey.

Asking adolescents about tobacco use and advising them to quit are the first steps toward the use of effective treatments to quit. Health care providers are uniquely positioned to screen for tobacco use in their patients, initiate treatment and connect them to smoking cessation services that are best suited for the patient.

Special considerations for adolescents: It is important for clinicians to intervene with adolescents in a manner that respects confidentiality and privacy (e.g., interviewing adolescents without parents present).
